Children are much more likely to contract the contagious disease when they have colds. Whooping cough, dip-often contracted when the child has a cold. That is why all medical authorities say beware of colds. For quick cure of

LACOMBE INDUSTRIAL BU-REAU FORMED

A meeting of citizens was held yesterday afternoon at which the question of an active publicity campaign was discussed. It was thought advisable to form an organization similar to that which is conducting the publicity work for Medicine Hat, Langdon, and other towns in the province.

Accordingly an organization was formed to be known as the Lacombe Industrial Bureau.
The following officers were elected:

President B. F. Bailey
Vice-President F. J. Quirk
Sec'y Treas. W. F. Graham Council W. E. Tees, G. W.
Hoson, C. Watkins, R. H. Ingles, P. H. Winter, J. W. Shirley,
L. G. Beatty.

tended and a very pleasant time

W. A. Kerr, who presented in this community was recently married in Sheffield, England.

Hitchcock is out at last, Lacombe Veterans' meeting up at the Lacombe farm on Saturday last.

At the beginning of the year the farm is begun to feel the effects of the big team outfit could not be moved and were obliged to go into winter quarters. The farmers had to get their thrashing done and Louis with his gasoline outfit was determined to help them out at a tick all summer. There were numerous breakdowns and discouraging delays, but finally thanks to big hearted Louis we all got thrashed and are happy.

call and see him as soon as possible.

THE FLIGHT OF THE FARMER

Those of us who have spent long years on the farm, a often come to wonder if the farmers are as badly used as some people would have us believe.
Certainly he labors under more onerous conditions today than a few years ago, and the grain combine, the breaking for which was his ambition, has long since been shattered. Of course we realize that there are many obstacles with which the farmer has to contend, but it must be frankly admitted in all fairness that today he is the most prosperous of all our citizens.
Contrast the conditions of this year of 1912 with those of ten years ago. Ten years ago was worth from three to five dollars an acre, and many of us wondered if we were not buying money when buying it at that price. What is the condition today? Thirty to sixty dollars an acre in the price which the farmer gets for his land, and there is always a good demand for it.
Horses ten years ago brought $80 to $100 each, while today for farm horses we pay as high as $1,000 a team, and the average is from $500 to $600 a pair.
Wheat which formerly sold for 30 cents and 40 cents a bushel demands a dollar now, and as general a thing finds a ready market. Of course, this particular season sees certain difficulties surrounding the selling of grain which are due entirely to transportation facilities and weather conditions, but in the main the farmer sells his wheat at an advance of about 150 per cent, over the prices obtained ten years ago. Butter, in towns and cities, is in demand at 45 cents a pound, and eggs are sold at the rate of five cents
each in the winter season.
These facts would seem to indicate that the farmer is living under pretty fair conditions. It is generally found working as much land as would be devoted to a colony in Ontario or any of the eastern provinces; he has fine buildings and pedigreed stock; he has a church at his door, telephone in his house;
schools near at hand for the education of his children; and opportunities for social intercourse which make life on the farm something worth many of the drudgery attending to the business of farming has been relieved by the new conditions under which the farmers live, and the vast majority of them would not exchange positions with any of the men under any other conditions.
After all, the farmer is the backbone of the land, and it is right that he should have all the luxuries and conveniences that are available for the city man. Certainly he has the more peaceful existence, away from the paved streets and the maddening throng.
Whipping
an exhausted nerve system with alcoholic stimulants only shortens
the road to physical collapse.
The first true step towards recovery from this condition lies in rebuilding the worn out nerve fibres, which can best be done with Lecithin, the form of phosphorus required for nerve repair.

Should Have Registry Office in Lacombe

Situated as Lacombe is, midway between Calgary and Edmonton, and at the junction of the C. P. R. and the C. N. R. lines, and the C. N. R. branch line, with good prospects of being a divisional point on the G. P. R., no better point could be decided upon for the location of a land registration office.

At present there are only two registration offices in Alberta, one at Calgary and the other at Edmonton. The great amount of business done in the province has to be transacted through one or the other of these offices, and as the distance of the province is great, great loss of time and money are sustained by the public.

In the country east and west of Lacombe, thousands of land transactions are taking place every week, and had we a registration office here it would prove of the greatest benefit to the residents of the district.

Other towns of no more importance than Lacombe are getting almost everything they go after. Red Deer and Wetaskiwin, neither of which have the business Lacombe can boast of, got busy and secured court houses, ports of entry, and other public offices from the government. Lacombe is not content with being a head of the province.

It is time right now to get after a registration office. No other town in Alberta has made a move. The early bird catches the worm.

D. V. PRINGLE WILL MOVE TO EDMONTON

D. V. Pringle, one of the most prosperous farmers of Pleasant Valley, has decided to retire from farming and will move to Edmonton about April 1st. Mr. Pringle is one of the largest land owners in Pleasant Valley, being possessed of 5,800 acres of the choicest farm lands in that favored district. While farming Mr. Pringle was most successful, and made money at everything he undertook.

His latest venture in the land business is the purchase of 5,774 acres of farm lands in the Innisfree district, east of Edmonton. This ranch is one of the beauty spots of Alberta. Birch Lake surrounds the entire block of land with the exception of about a mile or two fronting on the townsite of Innisfree. It is an ideal ranch, while the shores of the lake will soon no doubt, be utilized as a summer resort. Mr. Pringle also purchased the cattle on the ranch, numbering about a hundred head, and will run them there. He has purchased a steam plow outfit and will commence as soon as spring opens to break up 4,000 acres, which are ready for the plow. He intends making this farm one of the largest under cultivation in Alberta.

That he made a good bargain on the land is evidenced by the fact that he has, within the past few days been offered an advance of $25,000 on the price he paid.

While Mr. Pringle intends devoting most of the land to agriculture, he will develop the portion fronting on the lake as a summer resort. The place is alive with game of various kinds, he reporting having seen at least fifty head of deer while driving over it.

In addition to his farm land holdings Mr. Pringle is heavily interested in Edmonton property, being the owner of several very valuable parcels in that city, and will make his future home there.

TROPHY FOR BARLEY

To encourage the growing of barley in this district, the Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. will offer an silver cup at the Exhibition of the Lacombe Agricultural Society. The cup will be an annual trophy, and becomes the property of the party winning it twice. Samples of barley suitable for the use of the brewery can be seen at the office of F. L. Smith, Ltd., and will also be on exhibition at the fair. The points of judging will be uniformity, 15; weight, 60; color, 15; condition, 10. That there is money in barley is shown by the fact that the brewery for this year paid from 60 to 65 cents for barley that graded No. 3.

As a safe-guard buy nothing in the baking powder line unless all the ingredients are printed on the label. The manufacturers of the brands of baking powder in which large quantities of alum are used, are afraid to print the ingredients on the label as no person would buy it at any price. Magic Baking Powder is pure and guaranteed not to contain alum.

LACOMBE BULL SALE

The purchased bull sale to be held under the auspices of the Cattle Breeders' Association and the Department of Agriculture at Lacombe on May 29th, promises to be larger than any previous sale. Entries for this sale, on April 28th, and the rules governing same are the same as those of the Calgary sale, with the exception that the sellers must load any animals on the cars for the purchaser. For entry and other information may be had from the Secretary, Richardson, Calgary.

Wittenburg.

Miss Clara Simmonds was on the sick list last week. Mr. John Dyer and family returned last Tuesday from an extended visit through the States. We are sorry to hear that one of their children is seriously ill.

Do you see that broad smile on Frank Hancher? It's because of the arrival of a 7-pound boy on March 12th.

Mrs. John Archer and neighbor Mrs. P. S. Donham were in that shopping at Gilby the other day.

How about that big fellow who got his nose scratched by the smallest man in the valley? The fellow who lost 3 pairs of gloves while playing with his best girl the other evening had better look out or he may lose the girl next time.

Who can tell the name of the young man who stepped to the door to his girl good bye and let a line span of hay marcs run away?

A good many around here who intended to go to the big cash sale north of Rimbey were compelled to stay at home on account of the weather.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lange spent Sunday at the Jas. Evans home. They left their children to keep house while gone.

Mr. Lee Benson is busy these days cutting and hauling material for a good road to Wittenburg.

Would the party who owns that buggy which has been stuck in the road for nearly a year, kindly remove same as it is a bad thing to scare horses along the track.

Mr. Adam Mattheus has decided to go extensively into the sheep business, and will sell at auction all his farm stock consisting of 32 cattle and 8 horses. Also a lot of implements. The sale takes place 15 miles S.W. of Gilby on April 2nd.

Mr. Mattheus has secured the services of auctioneer G. N. Taylor for the Wittenburg whirling, to conduct the sale of property, being the owner of several very valuable parcels in that city, and will make his future home there.

VOX POPULI VOX DEI

The Latin adage is not universally accepted as true. It may be theoretically true, and there are signs that it is slowly but surely becoming true in the practical sense as well. The fact that the people demand peace, it begins to sound like the Voice of God. As Dr. Greenfield put it, a grand stand play is not an indication of courage, nor for that matter is it an indication of any good quality. The voice of the really brave is always for peace and quiet—not for war with its awful fatalities and apoplexies for which dress parades and passing plaudits are but poor compensation.

The celebration of the Centenary of Peace between Britain and the United States, to take place in 1914, has long been talked of.

Such a centenary is certainly worthy of much note. The two great nations concerned, including Canada, will enter into the celebration quite heartily, and not as a matter of mere international courtesy, and it is sincerely to be hoped that the great century of peace between these nations is only the first of a long series of peaceful centuries between these nations united by so many ties.

But it has justly been suggested that two other great nations should be invited to take part in this peace celebration, namely, France and Germany.

The suggestion was made at a peace meeting in London, and seems worthy of hearty acceptance.

The year 1914 will be the eve of a century of peace between Britain and France, for not since Waterloo, in 1815, have Britons and Frenchmen faced each other on the field of battle, and even then Britain's fight was not against France, but against a great power who was exploiting both France and Germany.

And as for Britons and Germans, they were allies in that decisive battle which rescued Europe from the domination of Napoleon, and made the many of today a possibility, and as for the period of unbroken peace between Britain and Germany, it goes back to the time fairly beyond the memory of man.

If, then, there be most fitting that these two great nations should take part in celebrating the centenary of peace in Europe, and it is to be hoped, this inauguration of a century of peace on both continents.

It is, then, a hopeful sign of the times that the Voice of the People is becoming more like unto the Voice of God.

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT IN AMERICAN CITIES

One of the big questions confronting democracy, especially in view of the steady increase in urban population, is that of city government. A promising symptom of a consistent desire of certain groups in the present system of city administration due to the fact that citizens are taking a keener interest in their own business than they have hitherto done. This growth of public interest, which is all too slow, has resulted in a keener perception of the apparent shortcomings of existing forms of government. As yet, however, in the most enlightened communities there is a hodge-podge existing as to what would be best to make. Very naturally in this period of uncertainty, there are many lands in the air, and no doubt a very large number, including a large proportion of men who do not give any serious study to the question, jump to the conclusion that instead of the old form of the popularly elected council, a permanent commission would be better. So far, however, it has not by any means been settled by careful students of municipal affairs that the commission form of government, or government by commission is the best.

A valuable contribution to the discussion of this subject is in the volume published by the McMillan Company as part of the Citizen's Library, dealing with the commission government in American cities, by Ernest S. Bradford, F.R.S. It gives the result, in a very acceptable form, of experiments already made. The commission form of government in the United States started at Galveston after the destruction of the city in 1900. It was installed by Houston in 1905, and two years later spread rapidly in all directions, being adopted by Dallas and other Texas cities, Des Moines and Cedar Rapids, Leavenworth (Iowa) and the State of Kansas, South Dakota, during 1907. Adopted by a constantly increasing list of municipalities, in August, 1911, it numbered among its adherents more than a hundred and fifty American cities of varying population and representing all sections. Through the commission system changed somewhat in its transit from the Gulf to the North Central States, to New England and the Pacific coast, modifications and additions being found in each locality, certain basic features prove upon examination to have remained, and common to all forms, constitute the elements which distinguish this commission type.

The real root of inefficiency in municipal administration is the apathy of the citizens. This, however, though slowly, is being removed. Extension of municipal functions brings increase of municipal taxes. This is a lesser evil than the existing public spirit. The higher the taxes are the greater will be the interest taken in municipal affairs. Pressure on the pocket produces desirable results. Undesirable results begin to realize that they are shareholders in a corporation, and their relations to it are unlike those of an ordinary shareholder in a joint stock company from which results are expected in dividends and which he never so distinctly generally realize this, the realization that their city will not give them desirable results unless they themselves take an interest in its affairs, the question of civic government will be simplified, it does not matter whether they elect a permanent board of directors in the form of a city council, or whether they elect a commission, the result will be the same, if they do not themselves take a lively interest in their own business.

There are manifest advantages in having men devote themselves wholly to public affairs, in preference to men giving part of their time and who are elected for one or two years. In the latter case, the men who become familiar with the routine of public business than they leave office. Their knowledge and experience gained is lost to the citizens at large. Under commission form of government this weakness is not wholly removed.

It stands to reason that when the average citizen really understands public business, and realizes his responsibility, he will exercise greater care in selecting men to look after his business, and when selected, if the men prove deserving, will retain them in office. He has no responsibility, he is good, he will not stay in office unless they are remunerated, and unless adequate reward is given them for fidelity to public interests. All these questions are dealt with by Mr. Bradford in his book.

In the Canadian West many towns and cities are in their formative condition. It would be well, therefore, for their citizens to give attention to such studies as those of Mr. Bradford. They will, in a measure, help to determine the right way to deal with the special circumstances of each particular city.

It must be remembered that a form of government suitable in one city may be entirely unsuited to another. The very fact that a commission form of government finds its birth in a town like Galveston may be a good reason for looking into it with carefully before it is applied to a city in the northern part of the continent where the taxpayers are imbued with a different kind of respect for life and property and for their municipal institutions.

BEFORE THEY FOUND GIN PILLS

"My husband used Gin Pills for his back and kidney troubles. He was in pain in his back and could not do his work properly. As he became worse, we found it necessary to begin treatment and we had used many other remedies but they did not give him relief. After taking one dose of GIN PILLS, he found them to be exactly what he needed, and after taking two boxes of GIN PILLS, he was completely cured. We heartily recommend GIN PILLS, at every opportunity to our friends and relatives. We are now well and happy at our dealer's who will supply you at the regular retail price—two for a box, 6 for a dozen. Most money refunded if GIN PILLS do not give satisfaction. ## EDITORIAL BRIEFS

A C. P. R. gang was busy last week moving the freight shed east, and the office went along the track, making room for the erection of the new station.

Mr. Gill, who has been visiting here for a little while, has gone back to Stettin. It is Mr. Gill's intention to move to Delburne soon and start a newspaper.

Emery Johnson has taken over the meat market a week ago and is busy on the job.

Miss E. Bill who has been with J. R. Shaw in his store for the past year is leaving this week for her home in Edmonton. We are sorry to lose her.

Miss V. Henderson, of Penhold, arrived last week and has taken a position with Mr. Shaw, in his store.

Mr. William Scobey who has been ill for some time is not improving very rapidly.

Mr. Roberts, who has been ill with pneumonia at Fred Fisher's, is now rapidly recovering under the care of Dr. McNab.

Mrs. Fisher as nurse.

Harry Bellhouse, whose sale occurred last week, purposes to go to British Columbia.

Enoch Nelson, who has been settled for a little while south of Clive, has recently sold out and is moving to the Peace River country.

Mr. Emery Johnson has purchased two lots on Jones St., between the hotel and Mr. Phares' property and intends to move his business across the railroad track to this location.

Mr. Perry, Sr., has commenced the erection of a residence for himself on Prince St., south of the track.

Mr. Beggs shipped three car loads of cattle from this station to Vancouver the first of the week.

Mr. John Kennedy has sold out his drivers to Fred Fisher last week.

Mr. A. Ginger, who has been digging a well near his residence, has been fortunate in securing a strong flow of soft water ten feet below the surface.

Mr. Andy Anderson has purchased part of the Thompson property—the homestead quarter—and intends to farm on a large scale.

There has been some talk likely to result in action, of building a brick building on lot 2, block 12. If this is erected, some changes will be made in the front of the pool hall building.

Mr. J. E. Westling intends to remodel his dwelling house this season, and by extensive improvements to make practically a new residence of it.

Harry Elliott, of Pleasant Valley has built this spring a well equipped building for his poultry and hogs. It is a model for convenience and design.

Mr. T. Davidson has also been making some improvements on his place by erecting a barn.

The ladies of Clive have issued invitations to a leap year ball to be held in Brereton Hall on Thursday evening, March 28th.

Mr. D. Wilson has commenced this week the erection of a one-story cottage on Longstreet Ave. It will be a commodious modern house well constructed.

Mr. Roy Hughes has charge of the work.

The Government Telephone Auditor has been here during the week auditing the telephone accounts preparatory to the transfer of the business to the new management.

So spring has come at last, and on schedule time too. Farmers who have dry, upland fields are preparing to start discing this week. If April is an open favorable month, the delayed plowing may all be finished on time yet.

Jack and Bert Reynolds have rented the Gilbert Ranch, south of Clive and expect to take possession very soon. It is reported that Mr. Gilbert intends to move to Edmonton for the present.

During the week four cars of grain have been loaded on the track, one by William Henry, two by A. A. Smith and one by C. Baker.

Mr. F. W. Locke, of Lacombe, was out last week and assisted the pastor of the Methodist church in the service on Tuesday evening.

Mr. C. B. Warren, of Edmonton, has been here for a week assisting in special services in the Methodist church.

A. F. McGill's sale is on the 30th of this month. Mr. McGill is moving off the farm for good with the view of bettering Mrs. McGill's health. They intend visiting in the east this summer and visiting in California. After that they will settle down in some town in Alberta.

Mr. Louis Ebeling's saving outfit has been busy since it started and has cut to date about 100,000 feet of lumber with about 40,000 more feet to manufacture yet.

Messrs. Holmes and Sharkey have decided to farm their own half section this year. With this end in view Mr. Sharkey will remain at home this summer. They will erect a large barn this season on their property. It will be commodious and convenient in design. This action shows confidence in the country and a progressive spirit.

Mr. Clarence Shaver is busy decorating the King Edward Hotel inside, and will be busy there for several weeks. He also has on hand the interior decorating of the residence of Messrs. Holmes and Sharkey. With the building going on here this season, he expects to be kept continually at work.

We are sorry that the major part of the material for the Clive Reporter last week took a journey south in the mails and reached Lacombe too late for publication. This accounts for the meagre showing of the Clive news of interest in the week.

Mr. T. A. Brereton has this week received notice that he has been appointed Notary Public for Clive. All conveying can be done now right on the spot.

Mr. Clinton Willough returned home on Sunday last. He has been visiting his old home in Kansas and is glad to get back to Alberta. He reports very bad crop conditions in Western Kansas last autumn and rough winter weather during his sojourn in the state. His father, whose reported illness was mainly instrumental in taking him away, is hail and hearty. We gladly welcome Mr. Willough back.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fulthorp, Monday morning, March 25th, a daughter.

A railway policy of extensive development seems to be the most persuasive argument to put before the electorate today.

The greatest need that the Westerner feels is shipping facilities. Moreover, at this stage of development, each town sees how it is favorably situated to be a great railway centre. When things are moving they want to push to the front.

Will Scott, the Antarctic explorer come back? Undoubtedly he will. We can only suppose that, disappointed at seeing the Norwegian flag at the pole when he got there, he turned his attention to other matters that he might have some tangible results to report on his arrival back.

An immense advantage Amundsen had over Lieut. Peary is the Norwegian flag will stay where he put it. Peary had to plant the Stars and stripes on drifting ice, and it must be hundreds of miles away from the North Pole by this time.

Those militant suffragets over in England have surely started in to make a "rough house" of it. We can stand one Carrie Nation for a time, especially if her smashing propensities are directed against the chief offenders, but when a whole army of them is turned loose with indiscriminate destructive tendencies, it is time to draw the line.

Every elevator at Fort William and Port Arthur filled to the brim, every vessel wintering there loaded; 1200 cars in the yards, more arriving every day; the ice thicker at Sault Ste. Marie than it has been for 20 years; the first of May the very earliest day mentioned for possible opening of navigation; that is the situation at the main shipping port for the West. Truly the hopper spout is clogged.

And now those American roads have started to steal Canadian cars, and pay the fine of thirty cents a day. Few cars that are sent to Duluth are returned. We need an international court to impose heavier fines. What is thirty cents a day to railroads who have the convenience that allows them to charge the present western freight rates.

So Joe Bull, through his official war lord, Winston Churchill, informed Germany the other day that for every five cents Germany spent on her navy, he would cover it with 8 cents. At this distance such tactics look very bad. When two nations are so touchy, Germany and Britain, making public such declarations at this time only provokes the other to retaliation. If the object of the war is to leave the great powers at peace, this is an excellent method of how not to do it.

When you read about that monster coal strike over across the water, don't get a sense of security come to you when you know that you live in a country where you can shoulder pick and shovel and go out and mine your own coal.

Now that it is certain that the government bill has been passed for use this year also, the petitions circulated last season, and taken all the alleged impossibilities out of the way of setting the machinery in motion, better than a friendly local option to get busy. Let them put all the information before the public which will secure a favorable consideration of the project.

If the Dominion Senate can step in and prevent that objectionable amendment to the grain act, passed by the Commons, which interferes, at the direction of a commission, with the farmers' right to be sure in turn along side of all competitors, they will demonstrate that some useful purpose can be still served by an "Upper House". It will be a bitter pill that will not melt them for it.

Talking about mergers and combines, there is just one word that can be said favorable to their formation today. The more these monster combinations of corporate capital buy the sooner will come the measure of reforms that shall relieve society of their weight and oppression. Everyone can see the gathering storm except those who are busy planting to plant in order to manipulate and control trade.

Lacombe's Bright Prospects for 1912

Everything Points to the Greatest Development we Have Ever Known

Never in her history have prospects for a successful and busy year been so bright for Lacombe as for the present year. The farmers of the immense territory tributary will be at work on the land within two weeks. That there will be a tremendous crop this year is almost certain. Despite the fact that the close of the fall of 1911 was a month earlier than usual, and caught most of the farmers with no plowing done, the exceptionally early spring will give them a chance to get their seeding done in good time, and there will be a greatly increased area under crop. There is no scarcity of good seed in the district at very reasonable prices.

Then the work on the C. N. R. Lacombe to Calgary branch will start in a week or two, and Lacombe will be headquarters for thousands of men for most of the summer. Here the contractors will make headquarters for their supplies and prospects for an abnormal business in 1912 cannot be better.

Talk of the C. P. R. putting a roundhouse here and extending the Lacombe-Moose Jaw branch to the west, is also heard, and in the list of work for 1912 the Company has provided for some such work. The extension of this line will run north of Gull Lake and will open up a splendid farming country.

That the C. T. P. is contemplating coming on a splendid show by the fact that their engineers are now working in the district, headed for Lacombe, the Branson, and eventually the Yellowstone Pass. And the Lacombe and Blind River Railway is also in the air. In fact an assured fact the stock is rapidly being subscribed in England and Mr. Strathely, who is heavily interested in the scheme, assures us that at least thirty miles of this line will be built west this year. This line will open up farming and ranching country, unexplored in Canada, or, we might say, on the continent.

Thousands of good farmers are already in the country surrounding Bentley and Rimbey, and with this road once started there would be many thousands more. With Lacombe the starting point, and the terminus of this line business would be increased many times, and the further growth of the town assured. Lacombe can now boast of being the best business town between Calgary and Edmonton, both in her stores and railway returns—the electric line would double her business. That Lacombe is looked upon as the most perfect farming district in the west is shown by the fact that the government has picked on this point as the most suitable for the location of one of the greatest demonstration farms on the continent. Conditions for mixed farming are ideal in this vicinity. The Lacombe demonstration farm will make Lacombe a familiar name with the agriculturists of the world, and will do much to build up our already thriving district. This year thousands of farmers from the States are headed Lacombe, and before fall we hope to see much of our vacant land in the hands of thirty settlers from across the line.

Building prospects also look good. Many residences are now projected, and some large business blocks will soon be under construction. An English syndicate will at once start the erection of a row of five handsome brick stores on Belmont St., and are now calling for tenders for the same. The Royal Bank will build headquarters pressed brick offices on the corner of Barnett Ave. and Nanton. This building will be three stories high and the sales the bank offices will contain one or two stories, while the upstairs will be fitted up for the accommodation of the staff and for offices and apartments. A large brick building will also be built on Duquette St., next to the Winnipeg Hotel, work on which will start in a few days. McLean is contemplating putting up a brick building on the lot south of his present place of business, on Nanton St., and many other citizens are figuring on making extensions and improvements to their properties. And there is no boom on in Lacombe. Good business and building lots can be purchased at very reasonable prices. Houses to rent are at a premium; in fact there is not a vacant house in town today.

WATCH LACOMBE GROW
And it would be well to watch Alberta's most beautiful summer resort—Gull Lake—grow this year.

Tourists and visitors from all over America and Europe, who have enjoyed a trip to Lacombe's summer resort, predict that in a few years it will equal in popularity any of the celebrated resorts on the other side. This resort is being developed this year by eastern capitalists, and many thousand pleasure seekers are expected to put in the hot summer months amid the beauties of this ideal lake. In a year or two Gull Lake will be the choicest summer resort in Canada. Situated as it is just 8 miles from Lacombe, with a splendid road all the way, it must eventually become a big factor in Lacombe's commercial growth.
